

January 2006      Phoenix, Arizona

Together... We Will!

The Global Economy • Life Expectancy • Outsourcing • Implantology • Web Technology

Our kick-off meeting for 2006 offered a wide variety of topics and guest speakers. We began the weekend with an all-day symposium on implantology. Dr. Charles Babbush, author of "As Good As New" presented the future direction of implants and potential seminars which could be offered to our member's clients. We continued with guests from Noble Biocare, BASIC Dental Implants and Quantum Dental Laboratory.

The first evening's discussions were centered around the future of our profession, such as new technology, the global economy and the effect of extended life expectancies.

The weekend continued with a presentation from 3M ESPE and information about impression troubleshooting, indirect restorations and related seminars that could be sponsored for our group members.

During this time we also began privately video taping participating group members for our web-video project. These short introductions will eventually be used for The Barnes Group future web site as well as on individual member's sites.
